Executive Summary

This report summarizes stakeholder feedback in the Thompson School District Superintendent Search from 1,244 online survey submissions gathered between February 26 and March 12, 2025. There were 1,241 surveys submitted in English and three surveys submitted in Spanish.

Stakeholders were presented with the opportunity to respond to a combination of multiple choice, rating scale, and constructed response questions. The cumulative results (all respondent groups combined) of answers to these questions are included in this executive summary. Responses disaggregated by specific respondent groups are presented as separate addendums to this report. Constructed response trend results, when present, are provided for respondent groups with at least 100 responses ( $n > 100$ ).

1. When asked to identify the one group that most closely identified the respondent’s connection to the school district, the largest group, as expected, of respondents self-identified as parents of current students (52%). This group was followed by staff members (33%), students (5%), community members (4%), others (3%), and parents of former students (3%)
2. Respondents were then asked, “What one word best describes how you feel about the district?” Presented here is a word cloud that visually represents the most frequently submitted responses:

3. Respondents were then asked via constructed response to answer the question, “What are three strengths of the school district that superintendent candidates should know?” The 10 most common themes emerging from these responses (in rank order) included:

1. Dedicated and Caring Teachers/Staff
2. Community Engagement and Support
3. Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion
4. Academic Excellence and High Expectations
5. Variety of Academic and Extracurricular Opportunities
6. Focus on Student-Centered Learning
7. Strong Communication and Transparency
8. Safety and Security
9. Continuous Improvement and Innovation
10. Social-Emotional Learning and Support

4. The next question asked for perceptions (4.0 rating scale) about several operational facets of the Thompson School District. These included (a) Student Achievement, (b) Communications, (c) Preparing Students for College and Career, (d) Relationships with Families, (e) Transparency, (f) Relationships with Staff Members, and (g) Financial Management. The chart below represents the collective ratings of each item:

| Operational Facet                  | Weighted Average |
|---|-------------------------|
| Communications                            | 2.33                    |
| Relationships with Families               | 2.26                    |
| Student Achievement                       | 2.25                    |
| Relationships with Staff Members          | 2.11                    |
| Preparing Students for College and Career | 2.08                    |
| Transparency                              | 1.92                    |
| Financial Management                      | 1.61                    |

5. Respondents were asked to select the three most critical issues from a list of 13 frequently identified issues in school districts. The ranking of these critical issues (from most important to least important) indicated:

|                                 |        |
|---------------------------------|--------|
| Staff Recruitment and Retention | 46.58% |
| Teacher Quality                 | 33.76% |
| School Safety and Security      | 28.36% |
| Academic Outcomes               | 27.88% |
| Financial Management            | 26.43% |
| College and Career Readiness    | 22.00% |
| Diversity and Engagement        | 17.81% |
| Family and Community Relations  | 17.41% |
| Special Education Services      | 17.32% |
| Facilities and Grounds          | 15.87% |
| Mental Health Services          | 15.71% |

|                           |        |
|---------------------------|--------|
| Social Emotional Learning | 14.34% |
| Communication             | 14.26% |

6. As a follow-up question, respondents were asked to identify any additional critical issues the next superintendent should make a priority. Five frequent themes emerged as additional critical issues. They were:

Student Behavior and Discipline

- Increased behavioral issues in schools
- Bullying prevention and enforcement of consequences
- Classroom disruptions affecting learning environments
- Concerns about restorative justice policies being ineffective

Academic Standards and Curriculum

- Focus on core academics (math, reading, writing, science)
- Reducing the number of initiatives and focusing on student outcomes
- More support for career and technical education
- Standardized curriculum across schools

Political Ideology

- Concerns about political and social ideologies in education
- Desire for schools to focus on academics over social issues
- Ensuring equal access to education for all students, including diverse and marginalized populations
- Calls for eliminating DEI programs from schools

School Operations and Scheduling

- More planning time for teachers instead of ineffective professional development sessions
- Standardizing policies across schools to reduce inconsistencies

Technology and Cell Phone Policies

- Reducing student access to cell phones during class
- Integrating technology in meaningful ways for learning
- Ensuring equal access to technology across schools

7. Respondents were asked to select the five most important characteristics the next superintendent should have from a list of 23 leadership characteristics. The ranking of these characteristics (from most important to least important) was:

|   |        |
|---|--------|
| Demonstrates high integrity and ethics and leads by example   | 47.38% |
| Places the needs of students above anything else              | 34.09% |
| Possesses a background in public education                    | 32.80% |
| Takes responsibility and is accountable for their actions     | 27.56% |
| Promotes safety and security across the district              | 26.91% |
| Is committed to equitable access to learning for all students | 26.43% |

|   |        |
|---|--------|
| Values educating the whole child  | 24.98% |
| Engages and listens to stakeholders   | 22.80% |
| Builds strong community relationships   | 22.32% |
| Spends time in classrooms   | 21.35% |
| Communicates effectively  | 20.63% |
| Uses data to make informed and transparent decisions                                  | 20.47% |
| Delivers improved student outcomes  | 18.86% |
| Promotes student participation in the arts, athletics, and extracurricular activities | 18.05% |
| Fosters creativity, risk taking, and innovation                                       | 15.07% |
| Thinks and acts strategically   | 14.26% |
| Builds strong and diverse teams   | 13.94% |
| Stands firm behind decisions that may not be popular                                  | 13.70% |
| Resolves conflicts with dignity and grace   | 12.65% |
| Values school autonomy  | 12.17% |
| Adapts effectively to changing circumstances  | 10.88% |
| Previous experience as a superintendent   | 9.67%  |
| Maintains a vision focused on the future  | 8.22%  |

8. Respondents were then asked via constructed response to identify any additional characteristics the next superintendent should have. Two frequent themes emerged from these comments. They included:

Commitment to Teachers and Staff

- Supports teacher retention and professional growth
- Understands classroom challenges and realities
- Values input from teachers and principals
- Reduces bureaucratic obstacles for educators
- Respects teacher autonomy and expertise
- Prioritizes teacher and staff morale

Prioritization of Academics Over Ideology

- Strong advocate for public education and core academics
- Supports career/college readiness programs
- Avoids extreme political influences in curriculum and policy
- Maintains high educational standards
- Encourages critical thinking and problem-solving skills

9. Respondents were next encouraged to identify three things that might encourage a candidate to relocate to the area. The most frequent responses included:

- Outdoor Activities & Natural Beauty
- Climate: 300 Days of Sunshine
- Small Town Feel with Big Opportunities

- Proximity to Mountains & Denver
- Supportive & Caring Community
- Vibrant Arts & Culture
- Quality of Life

10. Finally, respondents were asked if there were additional things they thought the Board of Education should consider during this search process. The most common themes arising from these comments included:

Leadership & Experience

- Preference for an external hire to bring fresh ideas and avoid entrenched internal conflicts.
- Proven track record in improving student achievement, teacher retention, and community engagement.
- Superintendent experience preferred, with a strong understanding of Colorado education laws.
- Long-term commitment to the district rather than using the role as a steppingstone.
- A hands-on leader who is visible in schools and engages with students, teachers, and parents.

Academic Excellence & Student Success

- Prioritize core academics (reading, writing, math, civics, and science) over ideological debates.
- Address student behavior issues and provide teachers with support to enforce discipline.
- Expand vocational, career, and technical education (CTE) alongside traditional college prep.
- Ensure strong support for special education, mental health services, and individualized learning plans.
- Data-driven decision-making and evidence-based approaches to improve education.

Political Neutrality & Focus on Students

- Avoid political agendas (both left and right) and focus on education rather than activism.
- Divided views on DEI (Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion); some see it as essential, while others oppose it.
- Concerns over book bans, gender identity discussions, and the politicization of education.
- The superintendent should unite, not divide, and serve all students fairly and equitably.

Financial Responsibility & Resource Management

- Address concerns about financial mismanagement and ensure strong fiscal oversight.
- Prioritize directing funds to classrooms and teachers rather than expanding district bureaucracy.
- Increase teacher pay and provide better resources for educators.

- Explore cost-saving measures, including a potential 4-day school week to improve retention.
- Transparent budgeting and communication with the community regarding funding.

Teacher & Staff Support

- Improve teacher retention and morale through better pay and working conditions.
- Provide professional development to help teachers address student behavior and learning challenges.
- Reduce micromanagement and allow educators more autonomy in their classrooms.
- Ensure administrative support for teachers dealing with student discipline issues.

Community Engagement & Trust

- Improve transparency and communication with parents, teachers, and community members.
- Rebuild trust in district leadership and ensure decision-making is collaborative and inclusive.
- Increase outreach to Spanish-speaking families and marginalized communities.
- Encourage parent and teacher involvement in district policies and hiring decisions.

School Safety & Student Well-being

- Strengthen anti-bullying initiatives and create a safe learning environment for all students.
- Improve mental health support and counseling services.
- Ensure discipline policies are effective and fair while holding students accountable.

Charter Schools & School Choice

- Mixed opinions on charter schools: Some want more school choice, while others emphasize strengthening public schools.
- Superintendent should work with both traditional public and charter schools to ensure quality education across the district.

Governance & Board Behavior

- Some view board members as too political, ineffective, or disconnected from community concerns.
- Calls for setting aside personal agendas and working together for the district's success.

Future-Focused Leadership & Innovation

- Strategic planning for growth and adapting to demographic and educational shifts.
- Innovation in education, including potential schedule changes (e.g., a 4-day school week).
- Balancing traditional education values with modern teaching approaches.

- Strengthening relationships with state and federal education agencies to advocate for students.

Respondents most often urge the Board of Education to choose a superintendent based on experience, leadership ability, and commitment to education, without political bias.

Respondents assert that the next leader must be fiscally responsible, politically neutral, and deeply invested in student success. Transparency, academic excellence, and meaningful engagement with teachers and parents are top priorities.

There is an opportunity to rebuild trust, improve educational outcomes, and unify the district.

| Operational Facet                  | Weighted Average |

| Mental Health Services          | 13.80% |
| Communication                   | 10.85% |

5. As a follow-up question, respondents were asked to identify any additional critical issues the next superintendent should make a priority. Five frequent themes emerged as additional critical issues. They were:

- Teacher compensation: Many responses highlight that teachers are underpaid, making it difficult to retain quality educators.
- Growth and overcrowding: The district is described as growing rapidly, which may lead to challenges in managing class sizes and resources.
- Transportation issues: Busing is mentioned as a significant problem, affecting student access to schools.
- Balancing diverse needs: There are conflicting views on topics like diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI), with some supporting these initiatives and others opposing them.
- Political and ideological tensions: Some responses highlight conflicts between conservative and progressive viewpoints within the community, affecting district policies and decisions.

6. Respondents were asked to select the five most important characteristics the next superintendent should have from a list of 23 leadership characteristics. The ranking of these characteristics (from most important to least important) was:

|   |        |

| Maintains a vision focused on the future  | 8.53%  |
| Values school autonomy  | 8.06%  |
| Previous experience as a superintendent   | 6.98%  |

7. Respondents were then asked via constructed response to identify any additional characteristics the next superintendent should have. Two frequent themes emerged from these comments. They included:

- Knowledge of educational best practices
- Commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI)

8. Respondents were next encouraged to identify three things that might encourage a candidate to relocate to the area. The most frequent responses included:

- Strong community support
- Quality education
- Diversity and inclusivity
- School choice
- Extracurricular activities

- Safe environment
- Growing community
- Location
- Career opportunities

9. Finally, respondents were asked if there were additional things they thought the Board of Education should consider during this search process. The most common themes arising from these comments included:

- Leadership: Strong leadership skills are crucial.
- Communication: Effective communication with parents, staff, and the community.
- Student-Centered: A focus on students' needs and success.
- Transparency and Honesty: Openness and integrity in decision-making.
- Knowledge of Education: Understanding of best practices in education and curriculum.
- Budgeting and Planning: Skill in managing resources and planning for the future.
- Community Engagement: Ability to connect with and involve the community.
- Support for Teachers and Staff: Valuing and supporting the educators and staff.
- Advocacy: Being an advocate for students, families, and staff, especially those marginalized.

| College and Career Readiness    | 15.53% |
| Facilities and Grounds          | 15.53% |
| Social Emotional Learning       | 11.10% |

5. As a follow-up question, respondents were asked to identify any additional critical issues the next superintendent should make a priority. Four frequent themes emerged as additional critical issues. They were:

- Low Teacher Pay/Compensation: This is the most dominant concern. It's seen as a major factor affecting retention and recruitment.
- Staffing Shortages/Getting Subs: Difficulty finding substitute teachers is a recurring problem.
- Bussing/Transportation Issues: This is specifically mentioned as a "huge issue" affecting the accessibility and smooth functioning of the school district.
- DEI Focus: Some felt there was too little and some felt there was too much.

6. Respondents were asked to select the five most important characteristics the next superintendent should have from a list of 23 leadership characteristics. The ranking of these characteristics (from most important to least important) was:

|  |        |
|--|--------|
| Demonstrates high integrity and ethics and leads by example                              | 47.82% |

| Previous experience as a superintendent  | 13.35% |
| Promotes student participation in the arts,athletics, and extracurricular activities | 12.62% |
| Delivers improved student outcomes   | 10.68% |
| Resolves conflicts with dignity and grace  | 10.68% |
| Maintains a vision focused on the future   | 7.77%  |

7. Respondents were then asked via constructed response to identify any additional characteristics the next superintendent should have. No additional discernable trends were identified.
8. Respondents were next encouraged to identify three things that might encourage a candidate to relocate to the area. The most frequent responses included:
  - Quality of Teachers/Staff
  - Community/Parent Involvement
  - School Choice/Variety of Programs
  - Location
  - Diversity/Inclusion
  - Extracurricular Activities/Athletics
  - Career Opportunities
  - Safe Schools
  - Small Class Size

9. Finally, respondents were asked if there were additional things they thought the Board of Education should consider during this search process. The most common themes arising from these comments included:

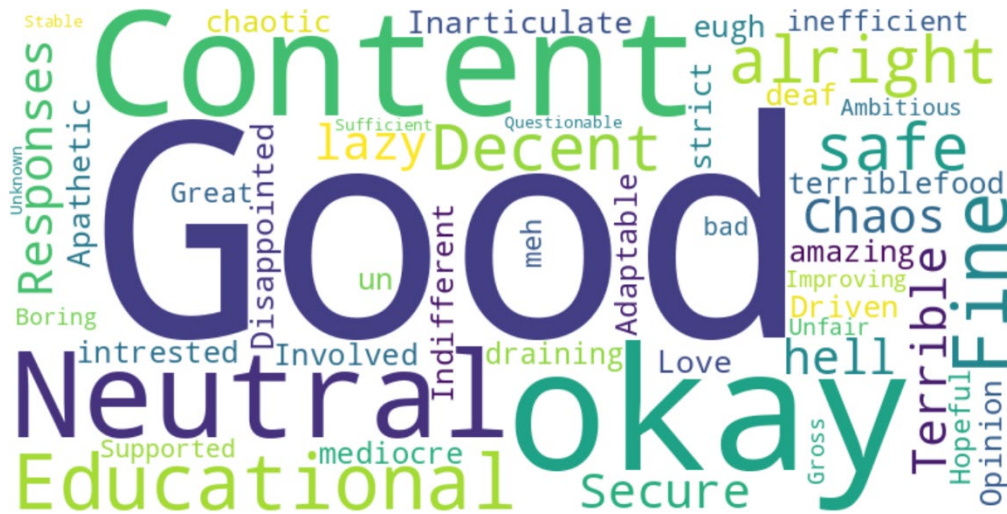

- External Hire with Experience: Staff strongly favor an external hire, preferably someone with previous superintendent experience.
- Support for Teachers & Staff – Staff want a leader who trusts educators, reduces micromanagement, provides meaningful professional development, and prioritizes morale and retention.
- Commitment to Diversity & Inclusion – As the district’s demographics shift, the superintendent must bridge conservative and diverse perspectives while fostering equity and inclusion for all students and staff.
- Community Engagement & Family Support – A superintendent who builds relationships with families and community stakeholders will be crucial to securing future funding and restoring public confidence in the district.
- Vision for the Future – The district is facing shifting demographics, funding challenges, and political pressures. The new leader must have a clear strategic vision and the ability to navigate these challenges effectively.

Respondent Group: Students 62 Responses

This section summarizes stakeholder feedback in the Thompson School District Superintendent Search from 62 respondents who identified themselves as a student.

1. Respondents were asked, “What one word best describes how you feel about the district?” Presented here is a word cloud that visually represents the most frequently submitted responses:

2. The next question asked for perceptions (4.0 rating scale) about several operational facets of the Thompson School District. These included (a) Student Achievement, (b) Communications, (c) Preparing Students for College and Career, (d) Relationships with Families, (e) Transparency, (f) Relationships with Staff Members, and (g) Financial Management. The chart below represents the collective ratings of each item:

| Operational Facet                  | Weighted Average |
|---|-------------------------|
| Preparing Students for College and Career | 2.34                    |
